

This document contains the privacy policy of Dodgem Games, a division of Dodgem Studios.
Applicable from: October 30, 2016

Privacy Policy

We, Dodgem Games and its parent company, respect the privacy of our users and will protect any information collected through our website and/or products. By using our website, games, products and/or other services, you consent that we may collect your data.

Website

Our website may collect data on your behaviour on our website as well as country of origin, type of internet browser, IP address and e-mail address (if you subscribe to our newsletter).

Games

Our games (made before 2017) do not collect any specific data.

Usage of collected data

To respect your privacy, we will not sell your data to third parties and/or use it in a way that makes you identifiable. The data collected will only be used to improve our games and/or other services we provide.

For more information about this policy and anything else, contact us;
info@dodgemgames.com

Last updated on: October 30, 2016